DETAILED ACTION

- 1 This action is responsive to the amendment filed on March 5/2003.
- Objection to claim 141 is withdrawn, because of the applicant's amendment.
- The rejection of claims under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, is withdrawn based on the applicant's remarks and explanation.
- 4 Claims 1-168 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grollier et al. (US 5,009,880), for the reasons set forth in the previous office action on paper No. 6, dated 11/20/2002.

Response to Applicant's Arguments applicant's arguments filed on March 5/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the rejection based on Grollier (US' 880), Applicant argues that the reference provides no specific guidance for a single composition or oxidizing composition comprising the applicant's claimed ingredients. The applicant also argues that the reference does not specifically single out the claimed cationic polymer and the Quaternium 37 is mentioned only once in the specification and is not used in any of the exemplary formulations. The applicant further, argues that the reference fails to guide one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the claimed cationic homopolymer with at least one fatty alcohol, alkoxylated fatty alcohol, oxidizing agents and fatty amides as claimed.

The examiner respectfully disagrees with the above arguments because the reference teaches a single dyeing composition (formulation) comprising the claimed ingredients of cationic polymers such as G 4, fatty alcohols such as cetyl alcohol, alkoxylated alcohols such as oxyethyleneated stearyl alcohol and ammonia of 22 compound where the formulation are mixed with hydrogen peroxide as an oxidizing agent before applying to the hair (see col. 81, Example 160), and, thus, a person of the ordinary skill in the art would expect such a composition to have similar properties to those claimed in the absence of contrary. Therefore, the prima facie case of obviousness has been established.

6 THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
